

The Asia-Pacific Council of American Chambers of Commerce (APCAC)

2012 U.S.-Asia Business Summit Tokyo, March 1-2, 2012

Hosted by The American Chamber of Commerce in Japan (ACCJ)

The Asia-Pacific Council of American Chambers of Commerce (APCAC) was founded in 1968 as a way for the now 27 American Chambers in 21 economies spanning Asia-Pacific to address issues of mutual concern and share best practices. APCAC represents the growing interests of over 50,000 business executives and more than 10,000 business entities in the Asia-Pacific region. The APCAC membership manages trade volumes in excess of US$400 billion and foreign direct investments of over US$200 billion.

Tentative program for the APCAC 2012 U.S.-Asia Business Summit
